

Game Directions for Fortune Keepers

Setup:

Prepare the fortunes by cutting them out, folding them in half, and placing them in a container. Players gather around in a comfortable setting.

How to Play:

Draw and Decide: Each player takes turns drawing a fortune from the container. They read it silently and decide whether to keep it or put it back for a chance at a different one.

Second Chance:

If a player chooses to put a fortune back, they draw again, but this time they must keep the second one they pick.

In or Out:

Once a player decides to keep a fortune, they are temporarily 'out' of the game, observing the rest of the draws.

Final Round for Swaps:

After everyone has drawn, there's one final round where players can offer to swap fortunes with each other. Swaps are completely optional and can be accepted or declined.

The Big Reveal:

Finally, each player reads their fortune aloud and, if they wish, can share why they chose to keep or swap for it.

Key Points:

Engagement Throughout: Even players who are 'out' after choosing their fortune stay engaged by watching others and participating in the final swap round. One Swap Per Person: To keep it simple, each player can initiate only one swap in the final round. No Eliminations: Everyone ends up with a fortune, ensuring all players are involved until the end.

Winning:

The game is more about fun and intrigue than winning. It's an opportunity for laughter, surprises, and maybe even a little insight into each other's personalities.

Closing Note:

"Fortune Keepers" balances the excitement of chance with personal choice, making for a light-hearted and engaging game that culminates in shared laughter as fortunes are revealed aloud. Enjoy playing at your party!
